World Communications Day - Listening with the ear of the heart

Pope Francis' message for World Communications Day 2022: Listening with the ear of the heart | Salt + Light Media (slmedia.org) The ability to listen is more important than ever in this time wounded by the pandemic and forced migration. In our accumulated mistrust of "official information" and resulting "info-demic", the world of information is struggling to be credible and transparent. We need to listen closely, to the unease caused by recent, and recurrent bad news stories. This is complicated, but to overcome prejudices and to melt the fear and hardness of our hearts, we need to listen to each other's stories. With this alertness we participate in a unity that precedes and includes us, welcoming the voices of others as a gift to manifest the harmony of the whole that God and the World composes.
